City program and authority

Warmouth Sands is a City of Vidalia municipal golf course operated through the Vidalia Golf Course Department. The City of Vidalia is the governing body, and the City Manager supervises the department; the Director operates it and establishes rates, fees, memberships, and use rules subject to City Manager review.

Benefits and public access

Membership provides only the benefits marked in Schedule A, subject to stated limits, course hours, safety rules, closures, and availability. Tee times require reservations and are not guaranteed. Cart, range, tournament, and guest benefits apply only if included in Schedule A. Nonmembers may use the course under the published public-use and fee schedule, subject to availability and rules. The City administers access without unlawful discrimination.

Annual term and renewal

Membership begins on the accepted start date in Schedule A and is a commitment through December 31 of the stated year. It expires automatically on December 31. There is no automatic renewal or charge for another year; a new membership requires an affirmative application and payment under then-approved terms. Ending access early does not by itself end the current-year payment commitment. Installments, if approved, divide payment of this year's price; they do not create monthly memberships or extend the term.

Price and payment

Complete Schedule A before signing. The membership price for a midyear start is the approved annual price multiplied by calendar days from and including the start date through December 31, divided by total calendar days in that year; separately priced options use the same method unless an expressly approved alternative appears in Schedule A. Proration sets the purchase price; it does not promise a refund for voluntary cancellation. Pay the full price before access begins unless Schedule A shows an approved installment plan. Optional purchases are charged only if separately authorized or incurred under the published schedule. Missed installments may lead to suspension after notice and reasonable opportunity to cure; the amount due for this membership year remains payable except as expressly provided below. This form contains no ACH or card credentials or open-ended payment authorization; any electronic payment authorization is separate through the designated processor.

Cancellation and refunds

Voluntary cancellation: A member may end access by written notice to the department. The cancellation is effective on receipt or a later requested date. Paid membership and prepaid option charges are not refunded, and approved remaining current-year installments remain due, unless law requires otherwise or the City grants a written exception under an approved policy. No charges arise for a later year without affirmative renewal.

Specified exceptions: The member or representative may request cancellation and a daily prorated refund if the member dies or has documented medical inability to use the course for the rest of the term. The City will also provide a daily prorated refund if it ends the membership without member misconduct or permanently closes the course.

Conduct and review

Members must follow published course and safety rules and staff's lawful directions. For a significant violation, the Director or designee may warn, suspend, or terminate membership after written notice and an opportunity to respond. An urgent safety or serious-disruption concern may warrant immediate temporary suspension, followed promptly by reasons and an opportunity to respond. A member may request City Manager review within 10 calendar days of a written suspension or termination decision using the Schedule A contact; the City Manager or authorized reviewer will give a written decision. Review does not require unsafe access pending decision. For misconduct suspension or termination, any refund of unused dues is at City discretion consistent with any approved policy. In all cases, charges properly incurred for services already received remain due.

Personal use and risk

Membership is nontransferable and creates no ownership, lease, easement, vote, or management authority. Family coverage is limited to eligible people listed here; guests follow public guest rules and pay applicable charges. Golf carries ordinary risks, including errant balls, weather, changing ground conditions, and cart use. Members must follow course rules and use reasonable care. Guests are subject to applicable course rules. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to waive any immunity or defense available to the City under applicable law.

Notices and records

Send cancellation and review requests to the Schedule A contacts. The City may send notices to the applicant's selected email or mailing address; please update contact details promptly. Records are handled under applicable public-records law, so confidentiality of the whole form cannot be promised. City-approved use rules may change. This agreement, completed Schedule A, and applicable approved rules govern; oral statements do not change them.
